

2009 McKinley Springs Syrah

The nose wraps star anise, cherry and forest floor inside an inky package. Your pallet prepares for big and dark, but it does not consider the sensation of falling into a deep dark void that accompanies the first sip. Bob appears to have sunk to new depths with his inaugural vintage of the McKinley Springs Syrah. Rich and chewy, the dark fruit drips from a bold backbone ending in a smokey finish with lingering bacon fat.

Drink it now. Drink it later. Drink it in your cellar with the lights out. Just make sure not to fall in too deep.

Technical Notes:

Blend. . . . . 92 Syrah, 5 viognier, 3 mourvedre

Appellation. . . . . Horse Heaven Hills

Vineyards . . . . . McKinley Springs

Oak . . . . . 100% French

Cases Produced. . 168

ROBERT
RAMSAY
CELLARS

